Course Description:

Theory and practice of software engineering. Design and implementation of software systems. Levels of abstraction as a technique in program design organized around major group programming projects.

Course Goals and Student Learning Outcomes:

At the end of the course, students will:

- Apply the software engineering lifecycle: requirements, design, implementation, and deployment using agile methods.
- Apply software design patterns and refactoring techniques.
- Work as an individual or as part of a software development team, and develop project planning and cost estimation skills.

Technology Requirements: You will need regular access to a computer with an internet connection. High speed broadband access (LAN, Cable or DSL) is highly recommended for the optimal learning experience.

Communication Norms: List detailed expectations about how students should communicate with the instructor. Be sure to include: "Check your @slu.edu email daily. Campus and course announcements will often be handled by e-mail." Include norms on email response time, deadlines, instructor feedback, office hours, and other expectations related to communications for the course.

Netiquette: Certain behavioral codes are expected when you communicate with both your peers and your instructors in any learning environment. For online-course discussions and emails, these codes are referred to as netiquette.

Assessment of Student Learning: To maintain quality academic offerings and to conform to accreditation requirements, SLU-Madrid regularly assesses its teaching, services and programs for evidence of student learning. For this purpose, SLU-Madrid keeps representative examples of student work from all courses and programs on file, including assignments, papers, exams, portfolios and results from student surveys, focus groups and reflective exercises. Copies of your work for this course may be kept on file for institutional research, assessment and accreditation purposes. If you prefer SLU-Madrid not to retain your work for this purpose, you must communicate this decision in writing to your professor.

Required Texts and Readings:

There is no required textbook.

Optional Texts and Readings:

- Ian Sommerville. Software Engineering. Tenth Ed. Pearson. 2016.
- Robert S. Pressman, Bruce R. Maxim. Software Engineering A Practitioner's Approach, 9th edition. McGraw Hill. 2019.

Attendance Policy:

Attendance and participation are very important in the learning process; missing classes will have a negative impact on your final grade. If an absence is unavoidable, you will be responsible for any announcements, information, problems, or course changes that are made in all lectures. Students are expected to arrive on time to the lectures. Repeated lateness will not be tolerated. So, please come to class on time and do not leave early. Anything else is rude and disruptive.

It is the student's responsibility to find out what was covered in class and to secure notes from another student.

If overall attendance is less than 80%, 2.5% of the final grade will be penalized. Excused absences will only be considered when an official written proof is presented.

Missed exams Policy:

Midterm and final examinations must be written on their respective dates. No alternative examinations will be scheduled except in the case of excused medical absences. Cases of excused medical absences must be petitioned for through the Chair of the department.

Excused Absences:

Legitimate conflicts and excuses require written documentation and are limited to death or near-death instances in the immediate family, a student's illness that requires immediate doctor's care (with the corresponding doctor's note), a University sponsored event (not club sports) and regularly scheduled religious obligations. The documentation must be presented on the day the student returns to the university. Excuses that will NOT be considered include personal travel arrangements, non-University sponsored events, a conflicting appointment, or an illness that does not prevent you from coming to the exam.

Engagement Policy:

Students should estimate to dedicate from 8 to 10 hours of work per week during the semester to complete assignments, homework, and any other activities.

Required Work:

Two midterms and a final will be given. They will emphasize the material presented in class but will also cover the assignments.

Participation:

Active participation during the lectures by asking questions may have a positive impact on the final grade.

Grading System: The final grade is calculated as follows:

- 50% assignments.
- 30% midterm exams.
- 20% final exam. A minimum score of 40% on the final exam is required to be considered for the final grade.

If overall attendance is less than 80%, 2.5% of the final grade will be penalized. Excused absences will only be considered when an official written proof is presented.

The final letter grade will be assigned based on the following scale:

93% guarantees an A

90% guarantees an A-

87% guarantees a B+

83% guarantees a B

80% guarantees a B-

77% guarantees a C+

73% guarantees a C

70% guarantees a C-

60% guarantees a D

Late assignment policy

- Work turned in 1 day late, 90% of the original credit.
- Work turned in 2 days late, 70% of the original credit.
- Work turned in 3 days late or more, 50% of the original credit.
- Work turned in more than 3 days late, 25% of the original credit.

Evaluation:

- Midterm exams consisting of the material covered in class.
- Final exam: up to 1 hour and 50 minutes cumulative exam.
- Assignments.
- Students may be asked to come to the board to solve problems and exercises.
- You are going to be evaluated not only on your knowledge of facts, but also on your creative and critical thinking, your ability to draw conclusions and make connections, and to communicate information in a reasoned and organized way.

Remark: No complaints about the grade of an exam will be accepted two weeks after the results have been announced to the class.

Academic Integrity: Academic integrity is the commitment to and demonstration of honest and moral behavior in an academic setting. Since the mission of the University is "the pursuit of truth for the greater glory of God and for the service of humanity," acts of integrity are essential to its very reason for existence. Thus, the University regards academic integrity as a matter of serious importance. Academic integrity is the foundation of the academic assessment process, which in turn sustains the ability of the University to certify to the outside world the skills and attainments of its graduates. Adhering to the standards of academic integrity allows all members of the University to contribute to a just and equitable learning environment that cultivates moral character and self-respect. The full University-level Academic Integrity Policy can be found on the Provost's Office website at: <https://www.slu.edu/provost/policies/academic-and-course/academic-integrity-policy.pdf>.

Your instructor will review these matters during the first weeks of the term. Please direct questions about any facet of academic integrity to the instructor, the chair of the department of your academic program or the Academic Dean of the Madrid Campus.

AI Policy: The University's goals include fostering students' critical thinking, creativity, reflection and problem solving. Therefore, all students must demonstrate originality in the authorship of their work and properly cite the sources consulted. While proper use of AI may prove to be a valuable teaching tool for both teachers and students, improper use/abuse of AI might be considered plagiarism and penalized as such. Please consult with your instructor if you have questions about whether or not you can use AI tools such as ChatGPT in your course.

In order to develop forms of assessment that will allow students to be assessed in a reliable manner and to provide effective and enhanced support for their learning, Departments/instructors reserve the right to randomly conduct oral exams as a second stage of an assessment for which the first stage is the submission of a written assignment.

Diversity and Inclusion: Saint Louis University is committed to fostering a positive, inclusive and welcoming learning and working environment. SLU-Madrid's policies prohibit discrimination based on race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, pregnancy, age, disability, physical appearance, financial or socio-economic status, immigration status, parental or marital status, veteran status or any other protected classification of identity. Accessibility, Disability and Learning Resources: In recognition that people learn in a variety of ways and that learning is influenced by multiple factors (e.g., prior experience, study skills, learning disability), resources to support student success are available on campus. Students who think they might benefit from these resources can find out more about:

- Course-level support (e.g., faculty member, departmental resources, etc.) by asking or emailing your course instructor.
- University-level support (e.g., tutoring/writing services, Accessibility and Disability Resources) by contacting the Academic Dean's Office (advising-madrid@slu.edu) or by reviewing the Academic Resources website online.

Students with a documented disability who wish to request academic accommodations must contact Disability Services to discuss accommodation requests and eligibility requirements. Please contact disabilityservices-madrid@slu.edu or +34 915 54 58 58, extension 242 or 249. Confidentiality will be observed in all inquiries. Once approved, information about the student's eligibility for academic accommodations will be shared with course instructors via email from Disability Services. Note: Students who do not have a documented disability but who think they may have one are encouraged to contact Disability Services.

For more information about academic accommodations, see SLU-Madrid's Center for Accessibility and Disability Resources webpage.

Needs Security Statement: Students in personal or academic distress and/or who may be specifically experiencing challenges such as securing food or difficulty navigating campus resources, and who believe this may affect their performance in the course, are encouraged to contact Student Life (studentlife-madrid@slu.edu or +34 915 54 58 58, ext. 213) for support. Furthermore, please notify the instructor if you are comfortable in doing so, as this will enable them to assist you with finding the resources you may need.
